

SALLIE STRINGER

Tells All About Her Marriage to Mary Brinkman Last Fall

AND THEIR WANDERINGS SINCE.

Nothing Very Sensational in Their Story—The Two Women do not Know why They were Brought Back to Toronto—Nothing Reflecting on the Priests Concerned in Brought Out.

The following statement, given to a gentleman in Toronto, O., by Sallie Stringer, or "Augustus Cothen," under which name she married Mary Brinkman, which has caused such a scandal in Toronto and Parkersburg, reached here yesterday:

Sallie Stringer left Toronto on the 28th of March, 1893, to undergo an examination at St. Anthony's hospital, Columbus, and was at the hospital from that date until August 21, 1893. Miss Mary Brinkman was at the hospital in the capacity of nurse, and nursed Miss Stringer during her stay there, this being their first acquaintance. Miss Brinkman has been a nurse for eleven years, and was at St. Anthony's hospital eleven months. Miss Brinkman was transferred to Cincinnati, but concluded to come to Toronto to recruit her health as the guest of Sallie. Those in charge of the hospital did not know anything of their intention or departure nor anyone in any way connected with it, although both ladies had been treated with great kindness by all of the officials.

After remaining at Toronto a little over a month they concluded they would try the bliss in matrimony. While there, the ladies were in correspondence with a Miss Lizzie Findley, who had also been at the hospital, and the would-be groom told her of their coming marriage, she taking the letter immediately to the mother superior, who in her dire distress called in Rev. Father Loyden, who had officiated as a pastor there for a number of years, and requested him to go to Toronto to stop the unholy union, and if possible to return Mary to the convent. On his arrival he found the loving couple residing on Freeman avenue. He did all that a Christian minister could do under the circumstances; moral suasion, entreaties or commands were of no avail, as Mary said she would marry at all hazards, and that it was useless for him to attempt to change their opinions. He then asked to see Sallie, who was brought before him. "He asked me," says Sallie, "if I knew anything about the Catholic faith, and if I knew what it was to marry a nun. I told him I knew very little about the faith, being a Presbyterian myself, and I was also very ignorant about nuns marrying. He requested me to send Mary to the convent at Wheeling and board her there until he could send on for her vows to be dispensed. I told him I did not think it necessary."

"He asked me if I was determined to proceed with this union; I replied yes. He also asked me if I thought in my own mind that Mary was a decent woman. I told him as far as I knew she was, and if she was palming herself on me for any other purpose, that I was innocent of it."

"The mysterious writing was merely an acknowledgment that I would not interfere with Mary for attending the Catholic church or living up to her faith, which paper I cheerfully signed."

When asked if this was all that had her signature in possession of the reverend gentleman she replied it was. He again urged them not to marry, but his efforts were of no avail. When asked if Father Loyden had come to them in disguise, Sallie indignantly replied no, that he had come as a gentleman and had acted as such.

Mrs. W. T. Stringer, a relative of Sallie, procured the marriage license on the 2d of October, and after several futile attempts the knot was tied by Justice Whitcomb, of Empire, the same day. After the marriage the couple repaired to Wheeling, staying here ten days, but owing to Mrs. Stringer's slander following them, they could not get the peace they desired. Mary did sewing at the McLure house during their stay here. From Wheeling they went to Grafton, W. Va., and remained a week, thence to Parkersburg. On arriving there they concluded to go to housekeeping. They rented and furnished a house, thinking they would be free from slander. After being there a little while, the Rev. Father Bauer called and told them that if they were married people they should live as married people or else leave the town and that Sallie ought not to be masquerading in feminine attire. Sallie asked protection from the chief of police, Capt. Heaton, which was granted. She wrote to H. H. Smith, mayor of Toronto, and told him she was being imposed upon by a German priest, and to notify the chief of police there the state of affairs. On last Friday they were surprised to find Marshal Baker at their residence. He asked if Sallie would go back to Toronto with him and she replied yes, sir, if she was able, but owing to sickness she did not think the doctor would allow her to travel, also that if Mary accompanied her she would do as requested.

This, said Sallie, was the first intimation they had of returning to Toronto, and the couple, if on oath, could not say for what purpose or by whom they were brought back. Tickets were furnished for transportation and hotel bills paid by Marshal Baker. Sallie said they were living amicably together and were anxious to return to the comforts of home where they were respected by their neighbors. They are both occupied nursing the sick. Marshal Baker escorted them to the Ben Hur Monday afternoon bound for Parkersburg.

Card from a Union Printer.

To the Editor of the Intelligence.
Sir:—The card of Mr. Burt, of the Corner Stone, in your issue of to-day will create among the public an erroneous impression if it is not rectified. The statement that the Typographical union made a "demand" upon the advertisers in his paper to withdraw their advertisements, is entirely untrue. The committee that waited upon those advertisers merely made a request that they withdraw their patronage. No threats were made. The committee simply explained the situation to the advertisers, and all but two said they would at once withdraw their patronage.

WELLSBURG ELECTION.

Consent Suit Republican—License Carried by a Small Majority.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligence.

WELLSBURG, W. VA., April 10.—The municipal elections were held here to-day and the result is very much of a mixed nature. The contest over the city clerkship and the license question has been the hottest and bitterest for years. In the council the Democrats have gained two members, both in the first branch, but the council is Republican on joint ballot. The license people have won the day by a majority of 28, a gain of 19 over last year.

Following is the vote in detail. For city clerk, Jesse G. Johnson (Republican) 232; George Easterday (Democrat) 219. For council, first ward, first branch, Saul Combs (Republican) 77; Andrew Eleasor (Democrat) 98. Second branch, J. G. W. Davies (Republican) 67; Henry Emig, jr. (Democrat) 112. Second ward, first branch, E. A. Sheets (Republican) 88; Dr. J. B. Walkinslow (Democrat) 89. Second branch, John Fowler (Republican) 100; Ernest Halley (Democrat) 78. Third ward, first branch, S. R. Caldwell (Republican) 92; Joseph Churchman (Democrat) 84. Short term, first branch, Millard Wells (Republican) 85; William Nangle (Democrat) 89. Second branch, M. A. Mones (Republican) 89; Samuel Jacobs (Democrat) 48. For license 232; against license 208. For school commissioner, Calvin Brashear (Democrat) 262; Millard Boyd (Republican) 241.

NOVEL SETTLEMENT.

Of a Bigamy Case—How a Hebrew Escaped Punishment.

CHICAGO, April 10.—Joseph Brown, a Hebrew under indictment for bigamy, has just escaped the law because his two wives both agreed to grant him a church divorce, which precluded either woman from appearing against him in court. Brown has two wives and two Hebrew rabbis went through an elaborate ceremony in the jail, and at its conclusion the rabbis pronounced the divorce. Brown was then taken before Judge Baker, who dismissed the criminal charge. The judge was decidedly adverse to this part of the programme, but he could do nothing else as the women declared they would not testify against Brown.

The Marquis of Ailesbury died yesterday in London. His age was only 31 years, yet he died $1,250,000 in debt.

APRIL'S NEED OF SLEEP.

Business Men, Over-Tired Housekeepers, Teachers, Students and Men and Women in the Whirl of Society Lack Rest.

Sweet sleep is nature's soft nurse. Half the fretfulness, sickness and complaining might be laid at the door of lack of sleep.

There is not one man or woman in ten thousand who can afford to do without seven or eight hours' sleep. All the stories about great men and women who slept three or four hours a night make very interesting reading, but no one over kept healthy in body and mind with less than seven hours' sound sleep.

Americans need more sleep than they are getting. This lack makes them thin and nervous, weak and complaining. But one cannot will one's self to sleep. If sleep will not come, there is an evident derangement of the nervous system. The tired, worn-out nerves need better nutrition to restore them to their healthy action. The rapid building up of nerve tissues is what makes Paine's celery compound so prominently the great modern nerve and blood remedy.

Sleep is the time of lowered expenditure of nerve force and of increased repair all over the body. Paine's celery compound quiets the disturbed nervous system, feeds its impoverished tissues and robs them of all irritability; sound, refreshing sleep ensues and the tired, despairing invalid starts at once on the way to assured health and strength.

A freshness in the countenance and an absence of that pained, worn expression comes after a short time taking Paine's celery compound. Neuralgia, rheumatism, palpitation of the heart, headaches and the host of discouraging signs of shattered nerves are banished by this great remedy. It makes people well. Students and teachers stand the fearful strain of preparation for spring examinations by building up the body strengthening the nerves and purifying the blood with Paine's celery compound. It gives vigor to mind and body.

A BIG HOWL.

THEY WANT IT ALL.

The coming to Wheeling of the Rochester concern, which intends selling to the people fine tailor-made clothing at a mere trifle compared to the prices they are in the habit of paying, has raised a great howl, and all kinds of threats are heard.
